

Rave Reviews for:

It Gets Easier!... And Other Lies We Tell New Mothers

"New moms and moms-to-be, meet your new best friend. Claudine Wolk tells it (and all of it) like it really is. Never mind all the other advice that will inevitably bombard the pregnant and postpartum: listen to her. This Book is precisely what the subtitle proclaims, "a fun, practical guide to becoming a new mom." Where, oh where was it when my two kids were new? A must for baby shower and new mom gifts"

Bookpage

"This book is helpful and a hoot!"

Dr. Laura Schlessinger, Author: "In Praise of Stay-at-Home Moms," Internationally syndicated radio talk host.

"I think this is fabulous. I love it. It's clear, honesy, fun and sensible. What more could a mother ask for?"

Susan Maushart, Author of "The Mask of Motherhood."

The author does a brilliant job making her book stand out amidst the plethora of parenting books available to new moms. Her title says it all. There are so many myths associated with motherhood and so many feelings of guilt that often follow suit. But the author reassures you that you are not alone and does it all with levity and wit. Her examination of the stay-at-home mom versus the mom who works outside the home is wonderful. I really connected with Claudine and I can't wait to see more books from her!

Tara Kompare, author of The Colic Chronicles

Finally...FINALLY...women are letting down their ponytails and talking OUT LOUD about the reality of new motherhood. It's so refreshing to hear stories that you can actually relate to, and Claudine Wolk takes it one step further, offering advice for surviving those early months. If only she'd been living next door to me when I was going through it all.

Vicki Glembocki, author of The Second Nine Months,
Editor at Large, Philadelphia Magazine

"I've read almost every "new mom" text - being the author of a few I have to keep up on the competition. This one was terrific, fun and helpful info for the woman who is new to the scary world of motherhood. Wolk brings her personal experience to each "new Mom" topic along with her humor to let new moms know they are not alone. What's more, Wolk provides the new mom with actual ideas she can try to make life with a newborn a bit easier - something I didn't bother to do in my book. I can't imagine any mom of an infant not getting something great out of reading this book."

Stephanie Wilder-Taylor, bestselling author of Sippy Cups Are Not For Chardonnay and Naptime Is the New Happy Hour

"Fresh! Practical! Down-to-earth! If that's the kind of mothering advice you'd like, read this book. Claudine Wolk has thrown out the old wives' tales and gathered the best helpful hints on topics you really want to know about."

Suzanne Zoglio, PhD, psychologist and author of Create A Life That Tickles Your Soul.

"It Gets Easier! And Other Lies We Tell New Mothers, gives new moms uncensored advice they won't find anywhere else. Claudine tells it like it really is, with honesty and humor! Any one of her tips could save you hours of hassle or even cut down on sleepless nights for you and your baby."

Amy Tiemann, Ph. D., author of the award-winning Mojo Mom: Nurturing Your Self While Raising a Family and creator of MojoMom.com

"Any time women, especially mothers, talk to one another honestly about their experiences, there's powerful good to be gained. Here, Claudine Wolk has done just that. My hat's off to her."

Kate Fratti, Columnist, Bucks County Courier Times

"It's the perfect book for that new mom (or soon to be mom) about the pitfalls and obstacles that every mother inevitably confronts and Wolk, in an empathetic, light-hearted, and most importantly, optimistic way, has written a guide that lets mom's know that it's going to be okay. The information provided by Wolk is invaluable. It Gets Easier! ... also does a fantastic job of instilling confidence in moms everywhere."

Jennifer Teaford, Doylestown Bookstore, Events

"It Gets Easier!" is a great read – great information in a quick and easy and very funny presentation.

Dr. Leslie Frankel, OB/GYN, Abington Hospital, PA